San Carlos Boy Dies of Leukemia

San Mateo County's number of 1949 deaths traceable to leukemia, rare blood disease, was brought to 12 early Monday with the death of Terence P. Foley, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Foley of 137 Alberta St., San Carlos.

The boy, who attended White Oaks School as a kindergarten pupil last year, was stricken with the rare affliction only a few weeks before he was to enter the first grade.

Dr. H. D. Chope, director of the San Mateo Department of Public Health, said today that there have been 12 fatalities within the county this year because of leukemia. Only one other was noted in the age group under 20 years, he said. The Foley boy was the couple's only child. Although a native of San Francisco, he has been a resident of San Carlos practically all his life. He is survived by his aunt, Mrs. Kermit Fisch of San Carlos, and his maternal grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Leland E. Carter, also of San Carlos.

Funeral services were held at Tuesday from the White Oaks Chapel. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

Chances for Field Lights At Sequoia Opener 'Dim'

Hopes that Sequoia High School's new football field lights will be in operation for the first game of the season were blacked out completely following a recent meeting of the school trustees.

Trustee Keith Cole reported to the board last week that he had been told there is "no chance" of having the $28,000 project in working order by Sept. 30, the date set for dedication prior to the Sequoia-San Leandro grid clash.

However, Isadore Thompson, structural engineer, stated that he would exert "every effort to get pipes to be used on the job on the campus in time to meet the deadline."

Contractor Roy M. Butcher of San Jose reported to Cole that the deadline could be met if the pipe poles were on the site between today and Monday.

"If sufficient welders can be employed on the pipes," Thompson said, "I believe the lights will be completed in time for the scheduled opening game."

He pointed out that the San Francisco sub-contractor was responsible for some of the delay because they bid on the job without making certain that materials were obtainable.

Cole said at last week's meeting that Butcher feared lights would not be in operation until Oct. 10. That would be in time for the third football game of the season.

In addition to the football team, the Community Chest also was hard hit by the news of delays. Cole, who is chairman of the fund-raising drive as well as a trustee for the district, said he would attempt to get the game re-scheduled for Saturday afternoon, Oct. 1.

The Chest had planned to stage its kick-off pageant to coincide with the inauguration of the lights. Some 1500 persons had been asked to take part in a gigantic parade and pageant, Cole said.

School trustees have scheduled a meeting for next week with contractors in an effort to determine exact cause of the delay.

"It certainly seems that there is some foolishness going on here," summed up Trustee Merritt Hosmer. "School costs are high enough now. If we're going to be taken for a ride, let's find out about it," he added.

Sequoia Asks Bids On 'Wing'

Sequoia High School trustees last week set Oct. 14 as the date for opening of bids on the new $150,000 commercial wing and specified that bidding contractors must post a $50 deposit when securing plans and specifications.

The board, after giving final approval to plans drawn up by Blanchard, Maher & Panulus, San Francisco architects, ordered Bus. Mgr. Humphrey J. Lynch to advertise for bids.

Trustees also awarded the bid for a Chevrolet cab chassis to the Davies Auto Co. of Redwood City. The firm's bid, only one received was for $1419 net, plus sales tax.

The chassis will be 3 1/2-ton 1949 model with a wheel base of 125 inches. It will be used as a multi-purpose carry-all by the school's maintenance department. Proprietor Al Davies said today he should be able to make delivery sometime this month.

The board also asked Fire Chief J. L. Lodi of Redwood City to meet with trustees at their next meeting to discuss the high school fire hydrant needs.

Lodi had written a letter calling for action on installation of hydrants on the campus. At present there are "about a dozen" around the perimeter of the campus, Lynch said, but none within easy access of buildings.

Lodi said the school could be protected by his department only after long lines of fire hose were laid, under present conditions. Such a necessity by firemen would tie up most of the city's hose in the case of a serious fire, Lodi warned.

An offer by Architect J. Lloyd Condrich of San Francisco to draw plans for future buildings at a flat 5 1/2 per cent fee was rejected by trustees who said they had narrowed the field far enough at present and wanted no further delay on projected construction.

The trustees also gave preliminary approval to a request from Menlo College for use of the high school football field when lights are completed.

The two dates requested are Oct. 15 and Oct. 21. Details of the fee to be charged will be worked out between Lynch and Menlo officials after cost of operating the arcs has been determined.

Heard a report from the State Board of Equalization regarding an inquiry by trustees over an alleged application for a liquor license at 755 El Camino Real. The SBE reported that no such request had yet been received.

Accepted an inter-district agreement with the San Jose Unified School Dist. regarding transfer of students within the two districts.

Heard a letter from Teacher Anna K. Bigler who expressed thanks for improvement in lighting facilities in the biology laboratory. A light meter once registered only one foot-candle of light, she wrote, while the visibility has since been brought up to the required 35 foot-candles.

Gave approval to a 40-page report from Supt. Clyde Ogden on the high school administrative accomplishments and improvements yet to be made.

Adopted a resolution calling for use of the high school gym one night a week by the Boy Scouts, provided no other meeting place can be found. Final action will be taken after a meeting with Alfred (Red) Morton, city recreation director, who has asked for gym facilities three nights a week.

Set tonight as the date for a meeting to discuss award of the architectural contract on the north-end addition to accommodate students in the San Carlos-Belmont area.

Agreed to aid the Peninsula Jewish Community Center, soon to vacate present quarters, in holding meetings. The center asked for a room capable of accommodating 20 to 30 persons twice a month and facilitate for "several hundred" once or twice a year.

ATTACK VICTIM — Mrs. Nan B. Andrews, attractive Belmont matron who recently was victim of a sex-maniac, shown in happier days with her husband, John S. Andrews, a consulting engineer. The picture was taken about four years ago, while the Andrews were living in the East. Mrs. Andrews is in serious condition as a result of a slashing and beating given her while she was walking home Friday night after attending a moving picture in Redwood City.

Break Scheduled Soon In Belmont Beating

Police said today that they expect a break in the Belmont slashing and beating case by this weekend.

Dep. Sheriff Paul Jensen, who with Dist. Atty. Investigator Frank Marlowe is directing the investigation on the attack of Mrs. Nan B. Andrews, said that their findings have been narrowed down to about three men.

Although reluctant to discuss the matter before the investigation is finished, Jensen admitted that the suspects in the case are "local" men, although not necessarily residents of Belmont.

Meanwhile, a transient picked up Tuesday afternoon in Burlingame for a check in connection with the Andrews case was cleared Wednesday.

The man, Martin R. Russell, 31, was taken to Community Hospital by Belmont Officer Andrew Turnauer. Mrs. Andrews said he was not the man who attacked her last Friday night, or the first time, three weeks ago.

Russell was arrested by Burlingame police at the railroad station, where he was alleged to be molesting women. He was booked on a Belmont drunk charge, and is being investigated for check charges arising in Sunnyvale in 1947.

The officers reported that the laboratory analysis of the attack behind the Notre Dame School for Girls has turned out inconclusively.

The bottle apparently contained mostly water, the laboratory experts reported. It also contained a small percentage of some other material which could not be identified.

Mrs. Andrews told Jensen and Marlowe that her attacker had tried to force some "vile-tasting" liquid down her throat, before slashing her with a sharp instrument.

Man Hurt as Car Takes Shortcut

It apparently takes more than a 30-foot tumble in an automobile accident to make a serious dent in Albert J. Combe, 55-year-old Pedro Valley man.

Combe and his automobile rolled over the edge of Lupin Way, westbound branch, shortly after 2:30 p.m. Monday. The car landed on its wheels, officers said, Combe in Community Hospital for observation.

He was released early Tuesday after being treated for facial cuts and a general shaking up. The car was badly damaged.

Combe told police he had been backing up on the one-way street when the mishap occurred. Before he knew it, Combe told officers, the car was over the edge and plunging down toward houses in the 1000 block of eastbound Lupin Way.

Fortunately, children in the area were taking their naps and weren't endangered by the unusual shortcut.

U.S. Offers SM Project To County

The federal government has offered the Coyote Point housing project to San Mateo County, if the county wishes to take it over, the board of supervisors was notified Tuesday.

Gaston Periat, chairman of the San Mateo County Housing Authority, wrote the board that Congress has passed an act authorizing the transfer of housing projects such as the one at Coyote Point to local authorities.

The supervisors, before taking any action on Periat's letter, referred it to Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis with instructions that he confer on the legal aspects with San Mateo city officials.

The housing project, Supervisor Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame pointed out, is in the San Mateo city limits. Officials of that city should be consulted, he declared. Supervisor Martin A. Poss of San Mateo concurred, and phrased the motion referring the letter to the district attorney.

Periat stated that if the supervisors wished, they may make application for the transfer not later than Dec. 22.

If the county decides to take the project over, it can collect the net revenue, subject to an obligation to repay the State of California the amount of money advanced for site preparation.

Since the revenue last year was $13,000, the obligation to the state could be repaid within a year, Periat stated.

However, if the county accepts the project, and waives removal requirements, "you probably would be subjected to recurring pressures to continue to maintain the project indefinitely," Periat wrote.

He stated that if the county does not accept the project, it will be closed down on either Dec. 31 or next June 30. The latter date is contingent on passage by the Senate of an extension for federal operation of housing projects. The House of Representatives already has passed such an extension, and the bill is being considered in Senate committee.

The board of supervisors also: Postponed until 2 p.m. next Monday action on confirming assessments for the Crystal Springs outfall sewer, completed at a cost of $100,000. The postponement was at the request of Max Schmidt, who charged that his property in the assessment district is required to pay more than it should.

Awarded to contractor L. C. Smith the bid for installing sewers on Third Ave. south of Redwood City. Smith was lowest of five bidders with a bid of $2142.20 for the project.

Postponed action on the application of Leonard L. Arnold for operation of one card table at 1972 University Ave., East Palo Alto. Arnold's application bore the approval of the sheriff's office, and was given verbal approval by the health department.

Sequoia Home Teacher Service Told by Krogh

Parents of Sequoia High School students who will require the services of the school's home teacher during the current year are urged to contact Principal Thor Krogh by mail or telephone, he asked today.

SM Woman Killed In Coastside Crash

A San Mateo woman was injured early Sunday morning when the car she was driving plunged off Coast Hwy. near Sharp Park while she and her husband were returning from a wedding reception in Moss Beach.

Mrs. Dolores Emma Standley, 28, mother of three children, died in Junipero Serra Hospital at 1:30 a.m. Sunday, 75 minutes after she was hurt.

Her husband, Chester Charles Standley, 31, a garage owner, of 250 North Delaware St., suffered a broken right wrist, a cut on his right ear, and bruises.

Six other persons were injured in weekend accidents in the unincorporated parts of San Mateo County, according to the California Highway Patrol.

The CHP stated that Mrs. Standley was driving a two-door Cadillac sedan north on Coast Hwy. at the time of the accident. She jammed on the brakes of the car as another vehicle approached about 200 feet north of the Vallejo Rd. The car skidded, swerved across the road and plunged over an eight-foot drop.

The car overturned, coming to rest on its top 100 feet from where it left the road.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Standley is survived by the three children, Larry, 9, Venita, 6, and Barbara, 4. Also surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kelly of 205 Baden Ave., South San Francisco.

Mario Basta, 27, of Santa Rosa, and Lela Belle Jackson, 24, South San Francisco, were hurt slightly Sunday evening in a three-car collision on Bayshore Hwy. south of Ralston Ave.

The accident involved cars driven by Robert D. Barnett, 26, of Santa Rosa, Clyde H. Jackson, 29, of 136 South Gardiner Ave., South San Francisco, and Joseph P. Mandone, 22, San Francisco.

Kenneth Erickson, 11, of 709 Baden Ave., South San Francisco, was treated at Community Hospital for injuries he suffered Sunday evening in a collision between cars driven by Richard J. Rudy, 20, a Menlo College student, and Carmelo Imprescia, 46, San Francisco. The accident occurred on Bayshore Hwy. south of Holly Rd., San Carlos.

Earnest E. Chaney, 24, Frank F. Renner, 42, and Mrs. F. F. Renner, 40, sustained minor injuries late Saturday in a three-car pileup on Bayshore Hwy. south of Brisbane, Chaney, whose car crossed to the wrong side of the highway, was arrested on a charge of being drunk in an automobile.

"That was the first I heard of it," Dematteis declared. So far as the appellate court is concerned, the bridge-bingo case is closed, Dematteis declared.

The court reached its decision on briefs submitted. Dematteis stated that his documents showed that the game as alleged in the petition made to the court by the operators was not the same game as it actually is played.

The club is operating a gambling game in violation of the lottery laws, the district attorney contended. He said that he felt the appellate court did not have the power to issue what in effect would be an injunction tying the hands of law enforcement officials.

The actual test of the Bay-short City operation will come on Oct. 4 and Oct. 5, when five men arrested for operating the game are to go on trial before Justice of the Peace John J. Fahey, South San Francisco.

The men have pleaded not guilty to operating lotteries. Five were arrested on Sept. 7, and four on Sept. 10, when the club reopened in the face of the earlier raid by deputy sheriffs.

SC Police in Tears, Bag Onion Haul

San Carlos police were faced with the problem of what to do with 200 pounds of raw onions in this week after arrest of two San Francisco men on car clouting charges.

The pair, including a 17-year-old boy, were being held by county authorities after their arrest by Officers Don Lowe and Charlie Blake at 3:55 a.m. Tuesday.

Officers reported that Arvil Robert Thomas, 25, a San Francisco messenger boy, and his teen-aged accomplice were nabbed in front of the home of Frank De Barbri, 1578 Walnut St., after a description of their car had been broadcast by Menlo police.

The pair readily admitted that they had intended to pilfer the De Barbri car's glove compartment and added that the four 50-pound sacks of onions had been "picked up" along the road near Agnew.

Whether the onions would produce enough crocodile tears to win an acquittal for them was a moot question among San Carlos officers, however.

Dubois added that the home was open for inspection, but now the case of the missing saw is now open for detection.

Sequoia Students to Get Iowa Tests During Next Week

Sequoia High School students will be given the Iowa tests of educational development over a four-day period beginning next Monday, Supt. Clyde Ogden said today.

The tests, already given on a city-wide basis in all Los Angeles and San Francisco schools, are designed to give an accurate standard of pupils' growth from year to year.

Cost of the 2800 tests is set at $1 per student, according to Mrs. Edith Baris of Menlo Park, consultant on the test staff. Results will be received within 10 days after tests have been completed, she said.

"The Iowa tests measure students' educational growth by including not only what they have learned in school," Mrs. Baris declared, "but also what they have learned in books, magazines, trips, conversations at home and in many other ways."

Included in the tests are four of education's fundamentals: the ability to understand the English language; the ability to do practical arithmetic reasoning; the knowledge of scientific matters and how to think straight; and knowledge of principles involving social studies and common social problems.

Teachers will administer the tests and copies of results will be given them as an aid in determining where weaknesses exist.

While Bayshore Freeway Saves Lives; Old Highway Continues as a Death Trap

... And State Highway Commission Leaves SM County Out in Its $61,000,000 Highway Program for 1950-51

Nine years of planning and work—and $9,000,000—have resulted in nine miles of six-lane divided freeway between South San Francisco and San Mateo.

Today these nine miles of freeway have made for easier driving—and much more important, have saved lives.

Today and tomorrow and the day after that ad infinitum the remaining four-lane sections of Bayshore Highway will continue to be the scene of fatalities and injuries to motorists.

Today the California Highway Commission outlined plans for a $61,702,000 highway construction program for 1950-51. This program includes continuing the six-lane freeway into San Francisco . . .

But it provides no funds whatsoever for San Mateo County!

This despite the fact that the San Mateo County freeway extension southward was one of the priority jobs recommended by the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Such priority would mean allocation of funds.

The table below illustrates dramatically how allocation of the funds would pay off in human welfare. Note the totals for the seven-month period ending last July: Two deaths on the San Francisco-South San Francisco portions of the old highway; two deaths on the San Mateo-Redwood City section; four deaths on the Redwood City-Santa Clara County section—and NO DEATHS on the Bayshore Freeway!

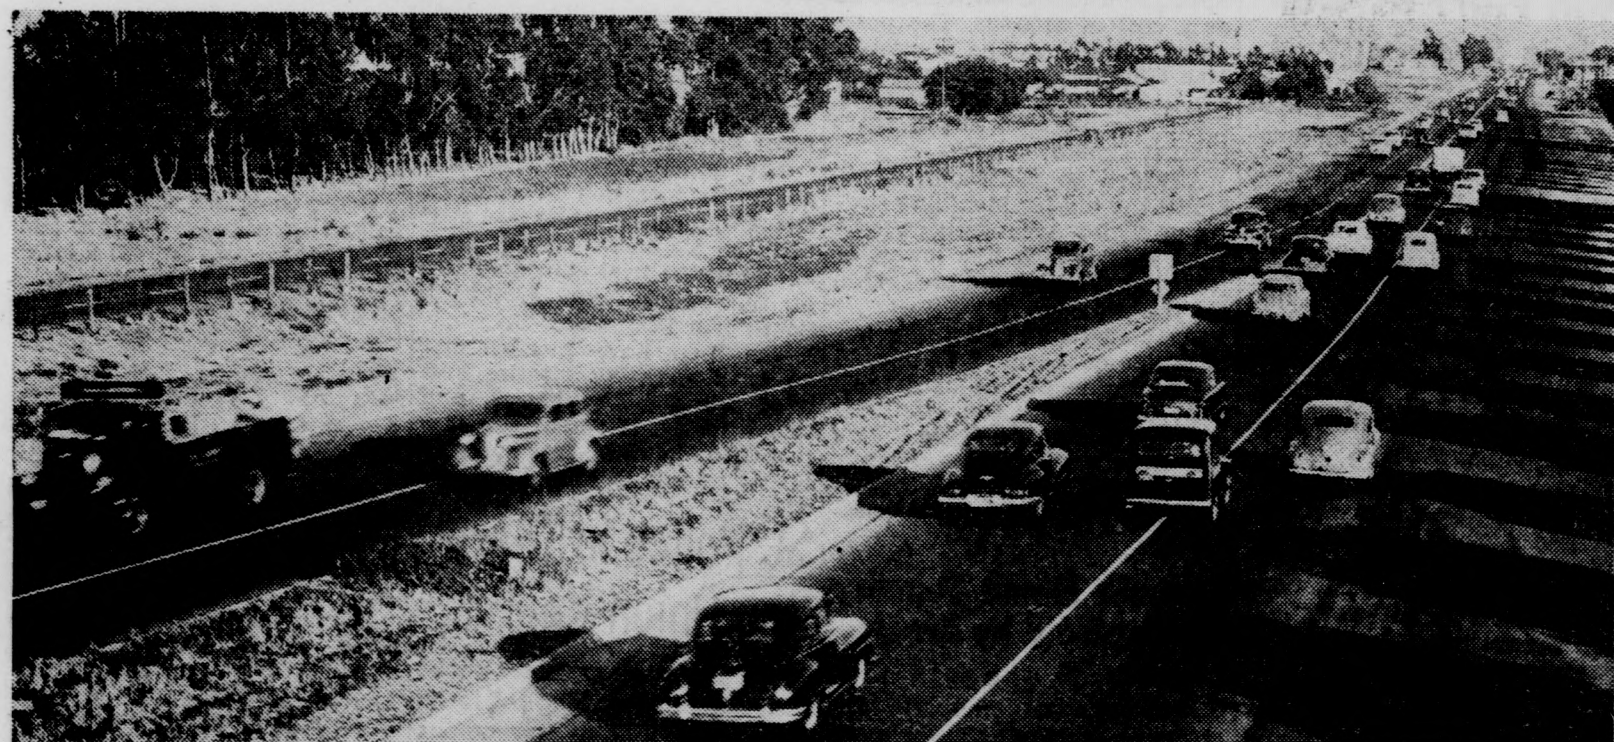

The injury tabulations show even more dramatically how the freeway has done a job.

The statistics are from the records of the San Mateo County Traffic Safety Commission.

Butcher Union, Meat Dealers Show Mutual Acceptance

BY BOB HARDGROVE

AFL Butcher's Local 516 and the Peninsula Retail Meat Dealers Assn. this year didn't even discuss their wage agreement. It automatically went into effect for the next year.

This was in marked contrast to 1946 when a long strike over the work-week was fought bitterly in San Mateo County.

But a check of the union's records shows the 1946 strike was, except for a one-day walkout in the early 20's, the only one in history.

The extension of an existing contract without dispute has occurred several times, as a matter of fact. The 1937 agreement with wages of $41 for a 54-hour week, lasted until 1940. The 1942 contract was maintained until 1944.

There have been hints of future difficulties over the sale of packaged meat, but Edwin F. Michelson of Burlingame, the union's business representative doesn't think the issue will make any trouble. He suspects the sale of packaged meat may not be universally popular and even if it is, he is sure butchers still will be required to prepare the packages.

Michelson presides over the affairs of the local, which has some 300 members. The local's jurisdiction covers all of San Mateo County, except South San Francisco, Colma and Daly City. Michelson estimates that some 500 or 600 butchers live in the North County area, most of them working in meat packing plants.

About 175 butchers who work in the San Francisco jurisdiction live in San Francisco County, putting the total union membership in the county well above the 1000 mark.

When the first real wage agreement was signed in 1919, butchers earned $38 for the 54-hour week, which actually had several more hours in it. But that was an improvement over the pre-union days when the scale was $60 a month for single men and $75 for married men. In those days butchers went to work at 5 or 6 a.m., going home for breakfast at 7. They worked much longer hours than the horses used for delivery.

Actually two horses were used. One made the morning rounds to get orders (there were no phones, yet), and a second horse pulled the delivery wagon in the afternoon.

The $38 wage lasted until 1920, when the union won a raise to $41, maintained until 1927.

Improvements came steadily until the present when journey-men butchers work a 40-hour week, plus one hour overtime on Saturdays. They are paid $80 plus $3 for the overtime hour. Head meatcutters earn $90 and $3.38; apprentices get $46 and $1.73.

The contract also provides nine paid holidays and six days sick leave annually, plus paid vacations at the rate of one week after one year and two weeks after two years.

Since Michelson became business representative in 1940 the union has established a death benefit of $800 for members of three years or longer and a sick benefit of $10 a week for 13 weeks.

Michelson has lived all but two weeks of his life in San Mateo County, his family moving from San Francisco right after the 1906 fire. He attended San Mateo High School and went to work as a butcher in 1923.

His career almost ended in 1936 when he suffered a broken back in a delivery accident, but following his recovery he operated his own business for a time, then returned to the union.

Michelson is married and has two daughters and one son, Edwin Jr., who played football before his graduation from Serra High School. One daughter, Halliott Jean attends San Mateo Junior College, and the other, Catherine, is a junior at Mercy High School.

Other officers of the union are Albert Hedrick, Burlingame, president; William Carff, Menlo Park, vice president; and William Cullen, Burlingame; Jack Purcell, Redwood City, and Arnold Montemagni, San Mateo, trustees.

Vet Home Loan Interest to Be Set

SACRAMENTO (WNS)—Interest rates on veteran home and farm loans for next year will be fixed by the California veterans board at a meeting scheduled in Los Angeles today.

The present rate is three per cent, and has been fixed annually at that point since 1946.

There was no indication that the rate this year would be changed, according to reports. The board has the option of fixing the rate within a range of 2½ to 4 per cent of the loan.

Lawrence C. Stevens, Director of the Department of Veterans Affairs, said that the state's objective is to keep the interest rate low enough to be of real benefit to the veteran, and still high enough to assure continued operation of the program on a sound financial basis.

The veteran's loan program, he said, has been functioning since 1921 at no cost to the taxpayer. It was adopted subsequent to World War I to permit veterans to buy houses and farms through state financing. Funds for the purchases were realized through the sale of veterans bonds by the state.

Members of the veterans board who will meet Friday are D. J. Callaghan, Jr., San Francisco, Chairman; Louis H. Burke, Montebello; Laurence W. Carr, Redding; Austin M. Healey, Fresno; Ernest R. Orfila, Los Angeles; Edward M. Seacord, San Jose and Orien W. Todd, Jr., San Diego.

San Carlos Plans 1-Day Chest Drive

More than 400 workers are organizing to put San Carlos over the top in a one-day Community Chest campaign on Sunday, Oct. 2.

"Every worker will have a small territory, and every section will be well organized," Ray Kidder, general campaign chairman, said.

The success of the drive to raise $8500 in San Carlos for the 10 different organizations represented by the chest will depend on the cooperation of public as well as workers, the chairman pointed out.

This year, for the first time, all residential calls will be made during one hour, between 1 and 2 o'clock on the first Sunday in October. Residents are asked to stay at home at that time and have their chest contributions ready.

"The enthusiasm we're meeting is terrific," Kidder states. "Everybody likes the one-hour idea."

A brunch served by the San Carlos PTA at 12:30 at the Central School Auditorium will start the whirlwind drive on Oct. 2.

Boy Stabbed Ten Times By Playmate

A 2-year-old Redwood City boy was stabbed about 10 times by a 4-year-old playmate in Pacific Manor Tuesday, Ocean Shore Police Chief William Regan reported today.

Michael Taylor, son of Mrs. T. W. Taylor of 730 Barron Ave., was treated by a Sharp Park physician and released to his mother.

Juvenile authorities have started an investigation to determine why the older boy, who was staying in a foster home, was left alone in the house.

Regan said that the 4-year-old has a tendency to grab a knife whenever he gets in a fight with one of his playmates.

Tuesday's attack on Michael was with an 8-inch butcher knife, and took place in the home of the older boy.

Regan said the latter told him he attacked Michael because the younger boy wanted to play in his home.

Michael suffered stab wounds on his arms, legs, face, head and torso, Regan declared.

He also was bitten about the legs and arms.

Dr. E. C. Kading, the physician who treated the boy, said that none of the wounds was deep enough to require sending Michael to a hospital, according to Regan.

Michael and his mother had gone to Pacific Manor to visit Mrs. H. O. Ulrich, 515 Edgemar Ave.

The women were talking in the house when they heard Mrs. Ulrich's 3-year-old daughter scream. They ran out, were told by the girl that Michael had been locked in the neighbor's home.

They're Saying In San Carlos

BY MIMI BELL

THAT the San Carlos Ranchers have a break this Fall, for they are going to be able to use the Central School Auditorium every Sunday evening from 7 to 9 for their adult folk dancing sessions.

"And it has a wonderful dance floor," members say. Gertrude Broderson will instruct again, and M. W. Kehler has provided a public address system to carry the recorded folk dance music throughout the auditorium.

The Ranchers, who have been dancing together for about a year, formed a club this Summer. Sam Goldblatt is their president. Anyone in the area who is interested in participating is eligible to join the social club if he has first had basic training in folk dancing. It is definitely an advanced dancing group.

Open House is scheduled for Sunday evening, Sept. 25, from 7 to 9 o'clock.

THAT San Carlos is well represented at San Jose State College this Fall. Among the girls going back are Alice Kent, daughter of the Paul Kents; Mary Jane McNeil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. McNeil; and Phyllis Thom, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Thom. Alice and Mary Jane are majoring in physical ed. Mary Jane is a senior this year while Alice is a junior. Phyllis is starting her second year, and she plans to major in general elementary teaching. Phyllis has had a busy summer as a play leader at the recreation center.

Gerie Merrill, daughter of the Lee Merrills, is starting her senior year at San Jose next month. Her major is personnel management. Gerie's sister, Susan, is a junior at Sequoia this year. Susan, by the way, modeled for the Suburban Club's fashion show at the California Country Club recently.

Jocelyn Bauer, daughter of the Bruce Bauers, begins her second year at San Jose when school opens on Oct. 3.

Geraldine Gibbs, formerly of Redwood City and now a San Carlos, will be starting her junior year, while Jean Prather, whose home is in Sacramento, now, will be coming over as a sophomore. Other newcomers will be Jeanne Rego who attended Jaycee last year, and Ellen Bersinger and Shirley Pingpank, both of whom are freshmen. All the girls are Sequoia alums.

Ten models, mostly San Carlos, showed the newest in Fall wardrobes Tuesday at the Villa when Dixon's held their annual luncheon-fashion show. Mrs. Ed Dixon was commentator for the fashionable-fashion affair, and San Carlos' popular pianist, Howard Kessler, played for the models.

Thirty-five fall outfits were shown including comfortable casuals, suits, jerseys, knits, novelty fabrics (for instance, a tweed dress which caused interested comment), with dressy attire in satin and taffeta. Fleece shortsies played an important role in the coat department.

Showing practical-for-the-Peninsula clothes in sizes from 9 to 18½, were Mrs. Cutler Brown, Mrs. Robert Kinsley, Mrs. Donald Anderson, Mrs. Harvey Odell, Mrs. O. W. McIntyre, Mrs. R. T. Taylor, all of San Carlos, and Mrs. Roy Taylor of Redwood City. Mrs. Anthony Calvelli of Atherton and Mrs. William Hussman of Menlo Park.

State Hospital Aid Here Held Unlikely

Hope that the Sequoia Hospital Dist. would get state financial aid in construction of its $2,000,000 facilities here faded today when the governor's state advisory hospital council failed to recommend such action.

Meeting in Los Angeles, the council approved 12 applications for assistance totaling $4,298,000, but turned down about 90 others, including the request from the Sequoia district.

Officials here had requested such aid on the basis that state funds were appropriated in Marin County for construction of a hospital under almost identical conditions with the local one.

C. C. Armstrong, chairman of the district's board of directors, had spearheaded the drive to obtain state aid.

Howser Says He's Probing County Vice

Atty. Gen. Fred N. Howser has launched an investigation into alleged "illegal vice" conditions in San Mateo County, police departments reported.

Howser's investigation was given in a "personal" letter to police chiefs and to the sheriff's office.

Signed by George W. Griffin, chief special agent in Howser's San Francisco office, the letter read:

"In the past complaints and reports have been received about illegal vice conditions existing within your jurisdiction."

"This office will investigate these reports and take appropriate action where proper evidence is obtained."

Griffin did not state what the "illegal vice" referred to, and police authorities were quick to issue denials as to conditions in their jurisdiction.

Chief Dep. Sheriff Walter Moore shrugged when asked about the Howser investigation.

"They're welcome to come in any time they want to," he declared.

"I suppose they're just going to investigate like they are doing in other counties."

"I'm not afraid they'll find anything that will put us behind the eight-ball."

Belmont Sea Scout Ship to Open New Base

The Belmont Sea Scouts, Ship 161, will hold open house next tomorrow and Sunday, according to Dr. David R. Sears, skipper, to inaugurate their new Sea Scout base, located in Belmont Harbor, east of Bayshore Hwy. at the foot of Harbor Blvd.

The base is a floating converted navy barracks barge and consists of a large dance floor, machine shop and boat shop below and a meeting hall, offices, clubroom for the Mariners (girl sea scouts), and sleeping quarters above.

A regatta will be held both afternoons with preliminary events tomorrow and final events and awards on Sunday. Six of the top ranking ships in the Bay Area will compete for a 24-inch trophy donated by the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York.

A dance Saturday will start at 8 p.m. Music will be furnished by Bud Colton's orchestra, with a vocalist and floor show providing additional entertainment. The admission charge for the dance will be $1 per couple.

The Belmont Sea Scouts won the regional Sea Scout regatta at San Diego last November in competition with 67 ships, representing 11 Western states and Honolulu as well as the San Mateo County regatta in April. In May they captured the Wrucke Trophy at the Palo Alto invitational regatta.

Dr. Chope Talks to Belmont Legion

Dr. Harold D. Chope, director of public health and welfare of San Mateo County, spoke at the recent Belmont American Legion meeting at the parish house of the Church of the Good Shepherd.

Dr. Chope said the county's equipment and skilled personnel is excellent but there is a great shortage of hospital beds. Now there are only 12 beds available for communicable diseases, where at least 40 are needed in

Two new members were taken into the legion, Robert Stanger and Wilfred Miller.

RC Council Votes $3000
For Hoover Rec Building

After a heated discussion over what organization should control the expenditure of funds, Redwood City councilmen have voted to set aside $3000 of the city's money to finishing work on the Hoover Recreation Building adjacent to the school.

The council's motion, however, provided that the money spent on the project should only be spent with the approval of the city's recreation commission.

Councilman H. E. Holmquist gave a committee report on the project which stated that completion of the building had been delayed for three months because of lack of funds. Only trusses to hold up the roof are lacking to bring the building to completion, he said.

Holmquist's committee, however, recommended that the city refuse to sell three lots adjacent to the site which are wanted by the school.

The councilman intimated that the school wished to purchase the lots because the dog pound was located on one of them. He recommended that the city should retain the lots as the city intended to move the dog pound to the sewage disposal area.

Councilman Carl A. Britschgi argued that there was no plan to show where the $3000 was to come from or where the money was to be spent.

Holmquist argued that all the labor at the site had been donated and that the city, through the recreation commission, could retain control of the funds.

Britschgi said he would vote for the measure providing the $3000 would cover all costs of construction. "If $3000 will cover it, I'll go for it," he declared, "if not, no."

Asked by the council to give his views on the situation, City Engineer Glenn M. Jain said he was not in a position to do so.

City Bldg. Insp. L. M. Duncan told the councilmen he thought the work could be done for $3000.
"Most of the work is in the labor," Duncan said, "and that seems to be provided for."

Britschgi said he was under the impression that two groups were fighting over which organization should complete the building. He said he had been told one of the organizations had been told to "get off the job."

"What about it," Britschgi added, "if there's a fight out there I don't think the city ought to get messed up in it."

Holmquist said this was the first time he had heard about any fight over the building. "The argument has nothing to do with the money the city is going to spend anyway," Holmquist said,
"the city has all the control."

Councilman Floyd Granger said the two groups would have to cooperate on the plan. "If there's a beef we'll cut off the money," he said.

The council agreed to spend the money but that the supervision of the funds would be through city departments. Since funds are not provided in the budget for the building the council moved to decide at the next meeting where the funds would be obtained.

Trial Ordered
In Theft Case
Harold Bidingar, 30-year-old St. Helena man who has been charged with receiving stolen property, has been held to answer for the charges in superior court.
Bidingar appeared before Justice
Court Judge Edward I. McAuliffe, Wednesday and was bound over to the superior court for trial.

He is charged with receiving stolen goods taken from the Gift and Toy Shop, 2639 Broadway, last April.

Bidingar was arrested by Redwood City police Sept. 10 at which time his bail was set at $1000 cash or $2000 bail bond.

RARE ORCHID BLOOMS—Mrs. John Arneith, 2534 Jefferson Ave., points to an unusual orchid which its blooming this week between the branches of a palm tree in her yard. Mass Meeting Called In SP Fare Boost Fight

A mass meeting to protest a proposed increase in commute fares by the Southern Pacific Co. has been set for Sept. 30 at the Sequoia High School auditorium, even as cities on the Peninsula and San Mateo County were asked to enter formal protests to the rate hike.

R. A. Fredlund, president of the Redwood City-San Carlos Commute Club, announced that representatives of about 25 groups are expected to attend the mass meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m.

The mass protest meeting was decided upon this week at a committee session of the club at Fredlund's Redwood City home.

"It calls for immediate action on part of each city and county in close cooperation with all other communities,"

He suggested that his proposal be referred to the city attorneys, and that the city councils make available funds to permit gathering of evidence and employment of experts to show why the rate increase should not be granted by the State Public Utilities Commission.

The first hearing on the Southern Pacific's request will be in Los Angeles on Sept. 26, two days before the scheduled mass meeting at Sequoia High School in Redwood City.

Spokesmen for the Commuters Club said that after the Los Angeles hearing the public utilities commission will set at hearing in the Bay Area.

After the mass meeting at Sequoia, regional meetings of various groups are to be called in the Bay Area to organize joint protest to the fare increase.

Patrick J. Kearns, former San Carlos mayor and an attorney, will be the keynote speaker at the Sequoia mass meeting. The meeting. Representatives of realtors, commuter, shipper groups have been invited as well as city and county officials.

The purpose of the meeting, the Commuter Club spokesmen explained, is to solidify all Peninsula groups in protest.

South San Francisco has referred the request of protest by the city to a committee composed of City Atty. J. W. Coleberd and Councilmen Charles Elder and Adolph Sani. The Burlingame
